

For you to understand

For you to understand,

I write a poem

Before you don't remember

Our world is ruled by this number.

Nothing from seashell and pineapple

Art and architecture

Can't be explained by this figure,

Cause as you must know

It's the golden ratio.