

Love is the power of two

Once upon a time
Two letters committed a passion crime.
They met in a square
Love was in the air.
Even if they didn't look like each other
This was their power.

They decided for the better
To finally live together,
And they provoked the addition
Of many an emotion !

A's christmas present
Was when B got pregnant.
A triangle of love
Finally came above.

After all in the light,
The surprise was bright.
Life was not once given
But twice, there were two children.

Once upon a time
Two letters committed a passion crime
They met in a square
Love was in the air
Even if you're different
Love is always present !!
